

Privacy Policy

This is the Privacy Policy for the Carousel Web portfolio of online technical publications - DefenseFile.com; NewMaterials.com; ProHealthServiceZone.com; ProSecurityZone.com; ProManufacturingZone.com and for our Corporate Website - CarouselWeb.com

We refer to ourselves variously as Carousel Web / "we" / "us" / "our" throughout this policy document.

This policy document should be read in conjunction with our Carousel Web Cookie Policy.

1. Your Privacy

You can visit our websites without revealing any information about yourself. However, if you give us any lawful information about yourself or others, we pledge to treat it securely, fairly and lawfully.

We operate Business to Business (B2B) websites and services and, hence, sensitive, (non-business specific) personal information is not normally requested, although business-specific information is, typically, but without limitation – your name, company address, telephone number, email address, login password plus other useful information regarding marketing or other agency contacts who provide news on your behalf. For an example, please see a typical Submit Your News page.(PMZ).

We shall only ask you for personal information online in response to you actively applying for, or using one of, our online products or services and, only then, on a strictly need to know basis to help us tailor better products and services on our sites.

We may use the information you provide for the purpose of providing more relevant content to you.

If you are giving us information for the first time, we shall explain the purpose for which we shall use it at that time.

On our news publications, we have a password protected login facility for company contacts to change or amend their company details.

In line with Data Protection Act 1998, Carousel Web follows strict procedures to protect submitted data.

2. Cookies

We do use "cookies" to improve your web experience and our performance. Do read our "Cookie Policy".

3. Unsubscribing or Amending Information we hold

You can amend or update your information at any time through our company login centre or by sending an email to news@\(sitename\).com.com), specifying your name, the email address/telephone number or other details you want removed. A reason would be helpful, but not mandatory.

You can remove your details from our newsletter subscription service by activating the unsubscribe facility always included at the foot of any newsletter we send out.

Please address any concerns you have about our Privacy and Cookie Policies by sending an email to the Publisher, jo.pye@carouselweb.com.

4. Will we pass on your information?

We do disclose information in a non-personal identifying format to prospective partners, advertisers and other third parties to describe our services to them and for them to analyse the use of our websites (e.g Google Analytics).

We do disclose your information to the relevant supplier, if you sign up for our Sales Enquiry Service or any similar information-seeking service we may add in the future. If you do not want us to forward your details to any third party supplier, please do not opt for the service.

5. Transfer of your information

In the event of a sale or other disposal of parts or all of our business to another party, we reserve the right to transfer your information as part of any assets sold or disposed of. By registering on this site and consenting to our terms, you are deemed to consent to this potential transfer.

6. Your Confirmation

We take your privacy and security seriously and, trust that after reading our Privacy and Cookie Policy you will have sufficient reassurance about the way the Carousel Web Group processes information it gathers. Please address any concerns you have to the:

This document should be read in conjunction with our Privacy Policy.

1. What is a Cookie?

A Cookie is a simple information text file that our website's server transfers to the cookie file on your device (e.g. you PC, Smartphone or Tablet). Only that server can retrieve and read the contents of that cookie. Cookies contain information about your visits to us and the purpose of the cookie is to enable our websites to remember you and your browsing patterns, when you visit us again. Cookies are not executable programs and, hence, it is impossible for cookies to contain viruses, or applications and, also, being very small, storing cookies runs no risk of clogging up your device's hard drive.

For further information about cookies, please visit <http://allaboutcookies.org>

2. How we use Cookies

Cookies help us plan the content and layout of our site and recognise returning visitors and, therefore, they play an important role in helping us enhance the usability and performance of our site to improve your visits.

We do not use Cookies to collect information that could identify you personally during your visits. The only exception to this is where you create a login to manage your Company Contacts and Details through our secure Members' login centre.

Types of Cookie that may be used during your visits are:

Session Cookies	We set these to enable us to keep track of your movement forward and back from page to page and from site to site. They are automatically deleted when you close your browser.
Persistent Cookies (also known as Permanent Cookies)	A persistent cookie enables a website to remember you on subsequent visits, speeding up or enhancing your experience of services or functions offered. These "cookies" provide personalised settings and remain on your hard drive until you erase them or they expire. For example, a website may offer its contents in different languages. On your first visit, you may choose to have the content delivered in French and the site may record that preference in a persistent cookie so that content is delivered in French in subsequent visits.
First Party Cookies	These are created by the website you are visiting to keep track of your personal preferences.
Third Party Cookies See below	These are placed by the following reputable domains to help us track visitor behaviour so that we can measure and validate the performance of our websites (e.g. Google Analytics) and, in some cases, as an additional revenue raiser (Google Adwords).
Google Analytics	These track which pages on the site are most commonly used, the number of visitors to the site, the ensuing page views, which browsers visit, entry pages etc. For more information on Google Analytics, we recommend you visit Google's privacy policy pages .
Google AdSense	See http://www.google.com/policies/privacy/ads/ and in particular What information does Google use to serve me ads?
Twitter	Although a US-based entity, Twitter complies with the U.S.-E.U. and U.S.-Swiss Safe Harbor Privacy Principles of notice, choice, onward transfer, security, data integrity, access, and enforcement. Refer to their cookie policy at https://twitter.com/privacy .
Tynt	Tynt only tracks what is being copied from the sites that use Tynt Publisher Tools. The data they manage consists of the keywords and phrases associated with user behaviour on the Web. They never collect any personally identifiable information. Tynt provides useful opt-in/opt-out information at http://www.tynt.com/tynt-users-opt-out .

3. How to control and delete cookies

If you don't want to receive cookies, you can change your browser setting to alert you when cookies are sent to you or you can refuse cookies completely. You can set your browser to accept or reject all specific 'cookies'. You can, also, delete cookies that have been already set. But, please, remember that if you prevent us from placing Cookies during your visit or you, subsequently, delete a Cookie that has been placed this will restrict features of our websites.

Carousel Web will not use Cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you. However, if you wish to restrict or block the Cookies which are set by us, or indeed any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. The Help function within your browser should tell you how.

Alternatively, you may wish to visit www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete Cookies from your computer (including those from this visit) as well as more general information about Cookies. For information on how to do this on the browser of your mobile device you will need to refer to your handset manual.

4. Your Confirmation
